How do I utilize my DirectHealth lab benefit?

The program is set up to work conveniently with your doctor's office. Whenever your doctor orders laboratory or pathology, just ask him/her to attach a copy of your DirectHealth card to the requisition and follow the simple instructions on the back of the card regarding procedures for lab/path collection.* DirectHealth will then bill your insurance company.

Simple as 1-2-3:

1. Patient presents DirectHealth lab card and physician orders lab test(s) through the simple requisition process.
2. Sample is obtained through physician office or convenient draw station.
3. Test results are completed and sent to ordering physician for patient follow-up.

Direct Access, Direct Savings... DirectHealth.

* Note: In the event that an outpatient lab service provider is utilized for lab services other than LabCorp, the 100% benefit provision is contingent upon the lab provider's agreement to accept the DirectHealth reimbursement schedule and their agreement to not balance bill the member. Please contact DirectHealth for additional details.
